JEFF TERESI

*HELPING CORPORATIONS
BREAK THROUGH
TO THEIR NEXT
BIG BREAKTHROUGH*

As an author, speaker, hall-of-fame business achiever, and Carlson School of Management graduate with +20 years of experience, Jeff helps corporations create a culture of encouraging connections. Where employees feel empowered and engaged. Where work is seen as not an obligation, but an opportunity.

Jeff helps corporations create a culture where gratitude and appreciation is seen as the competitive advantage that it is. Where morale is maximized and turnover is minimized. Where less money is spent having to hire new employees and more is spent able to develop and grow the individual and teams. Where the company's calendar reflects and protects what matters most: the well-being of the individual, which culminates in the well-being of the company as a whole.
